

Comfort

The lightweight padding on the underside of the saddle provides much more comfort for the horse, making it safer for the rider

Safety

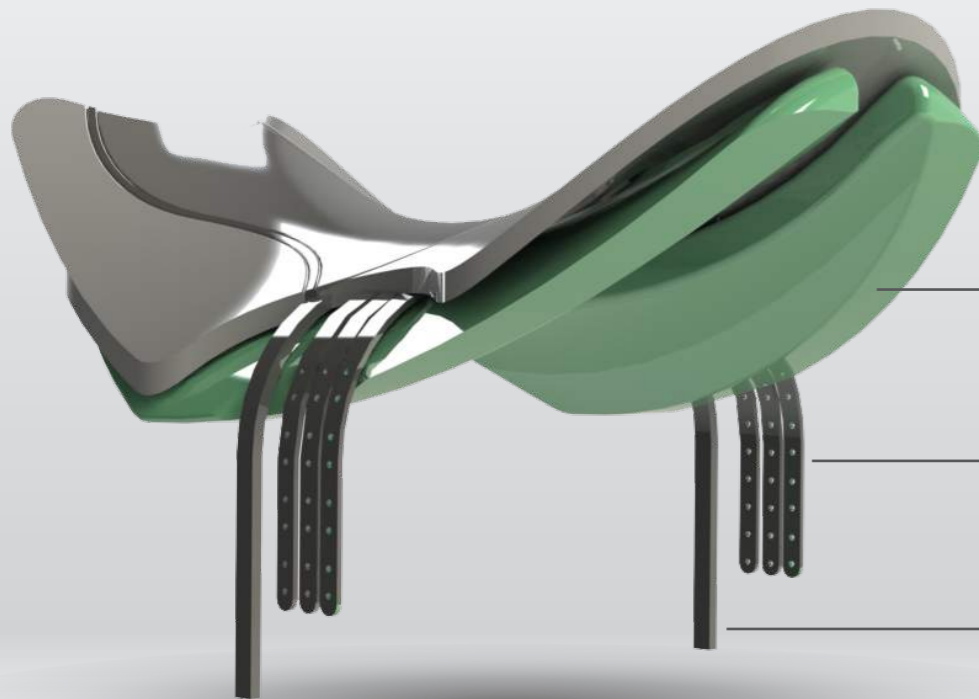

Multiple billets keep the saddle secured to the horse even if one of them snaps.

Therapy

Lack of sweat flaps provides maximum contact between the rider's legs and the body of the horse. The warm temperature of the horse helps to relax the spastic muscles.

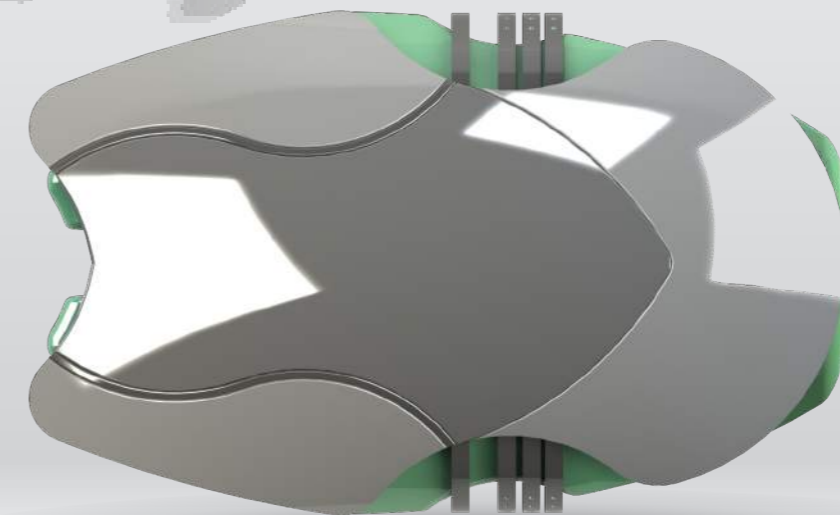

RDAI

Padding

Billets

Stirrup

Weather resistant seat means that the saddle will not wear down with use and will prevent the rider from sliding up and down it.